

Jackie Mattox

Founder/President/CEO

Jackie Mattox is the Founder, President, and Chief Executive Officer for Women in Electronics, headquartered in Southern California. Jackie started her career in the Electronics Industry during her college years at a small rep firm in Southern California where she worked her way into the roles of Sales and Distribution Manager and also took a passionate interest in Strategic Key Account Management. Jackie graduated from California State University, Northridge with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Communication/Journalism. Jackie has always had a heart for people and especially for women's issues along with a dedication to personal and professional leadership development. Jackie had a vision for women rising into leadership roles in the Electronics Industry, which inspired the birth of Women in Electronics in 2017. Women in Electronics has grown into a thriving global non-profit 501(c)3 organization and Jackie was named in Start Ups Magazine as one of the Top 21 Female Influencers in September 2021. Having a very active role in her children's education, she also helped with the start-up of a charter school in Orange County, CA. In her free time Jackie enjoys hiking and biking with friends and beach time with her three children. She values the experience travel brings and being a part of her local community in the beautiful city of Laguna Niguel, CA.
